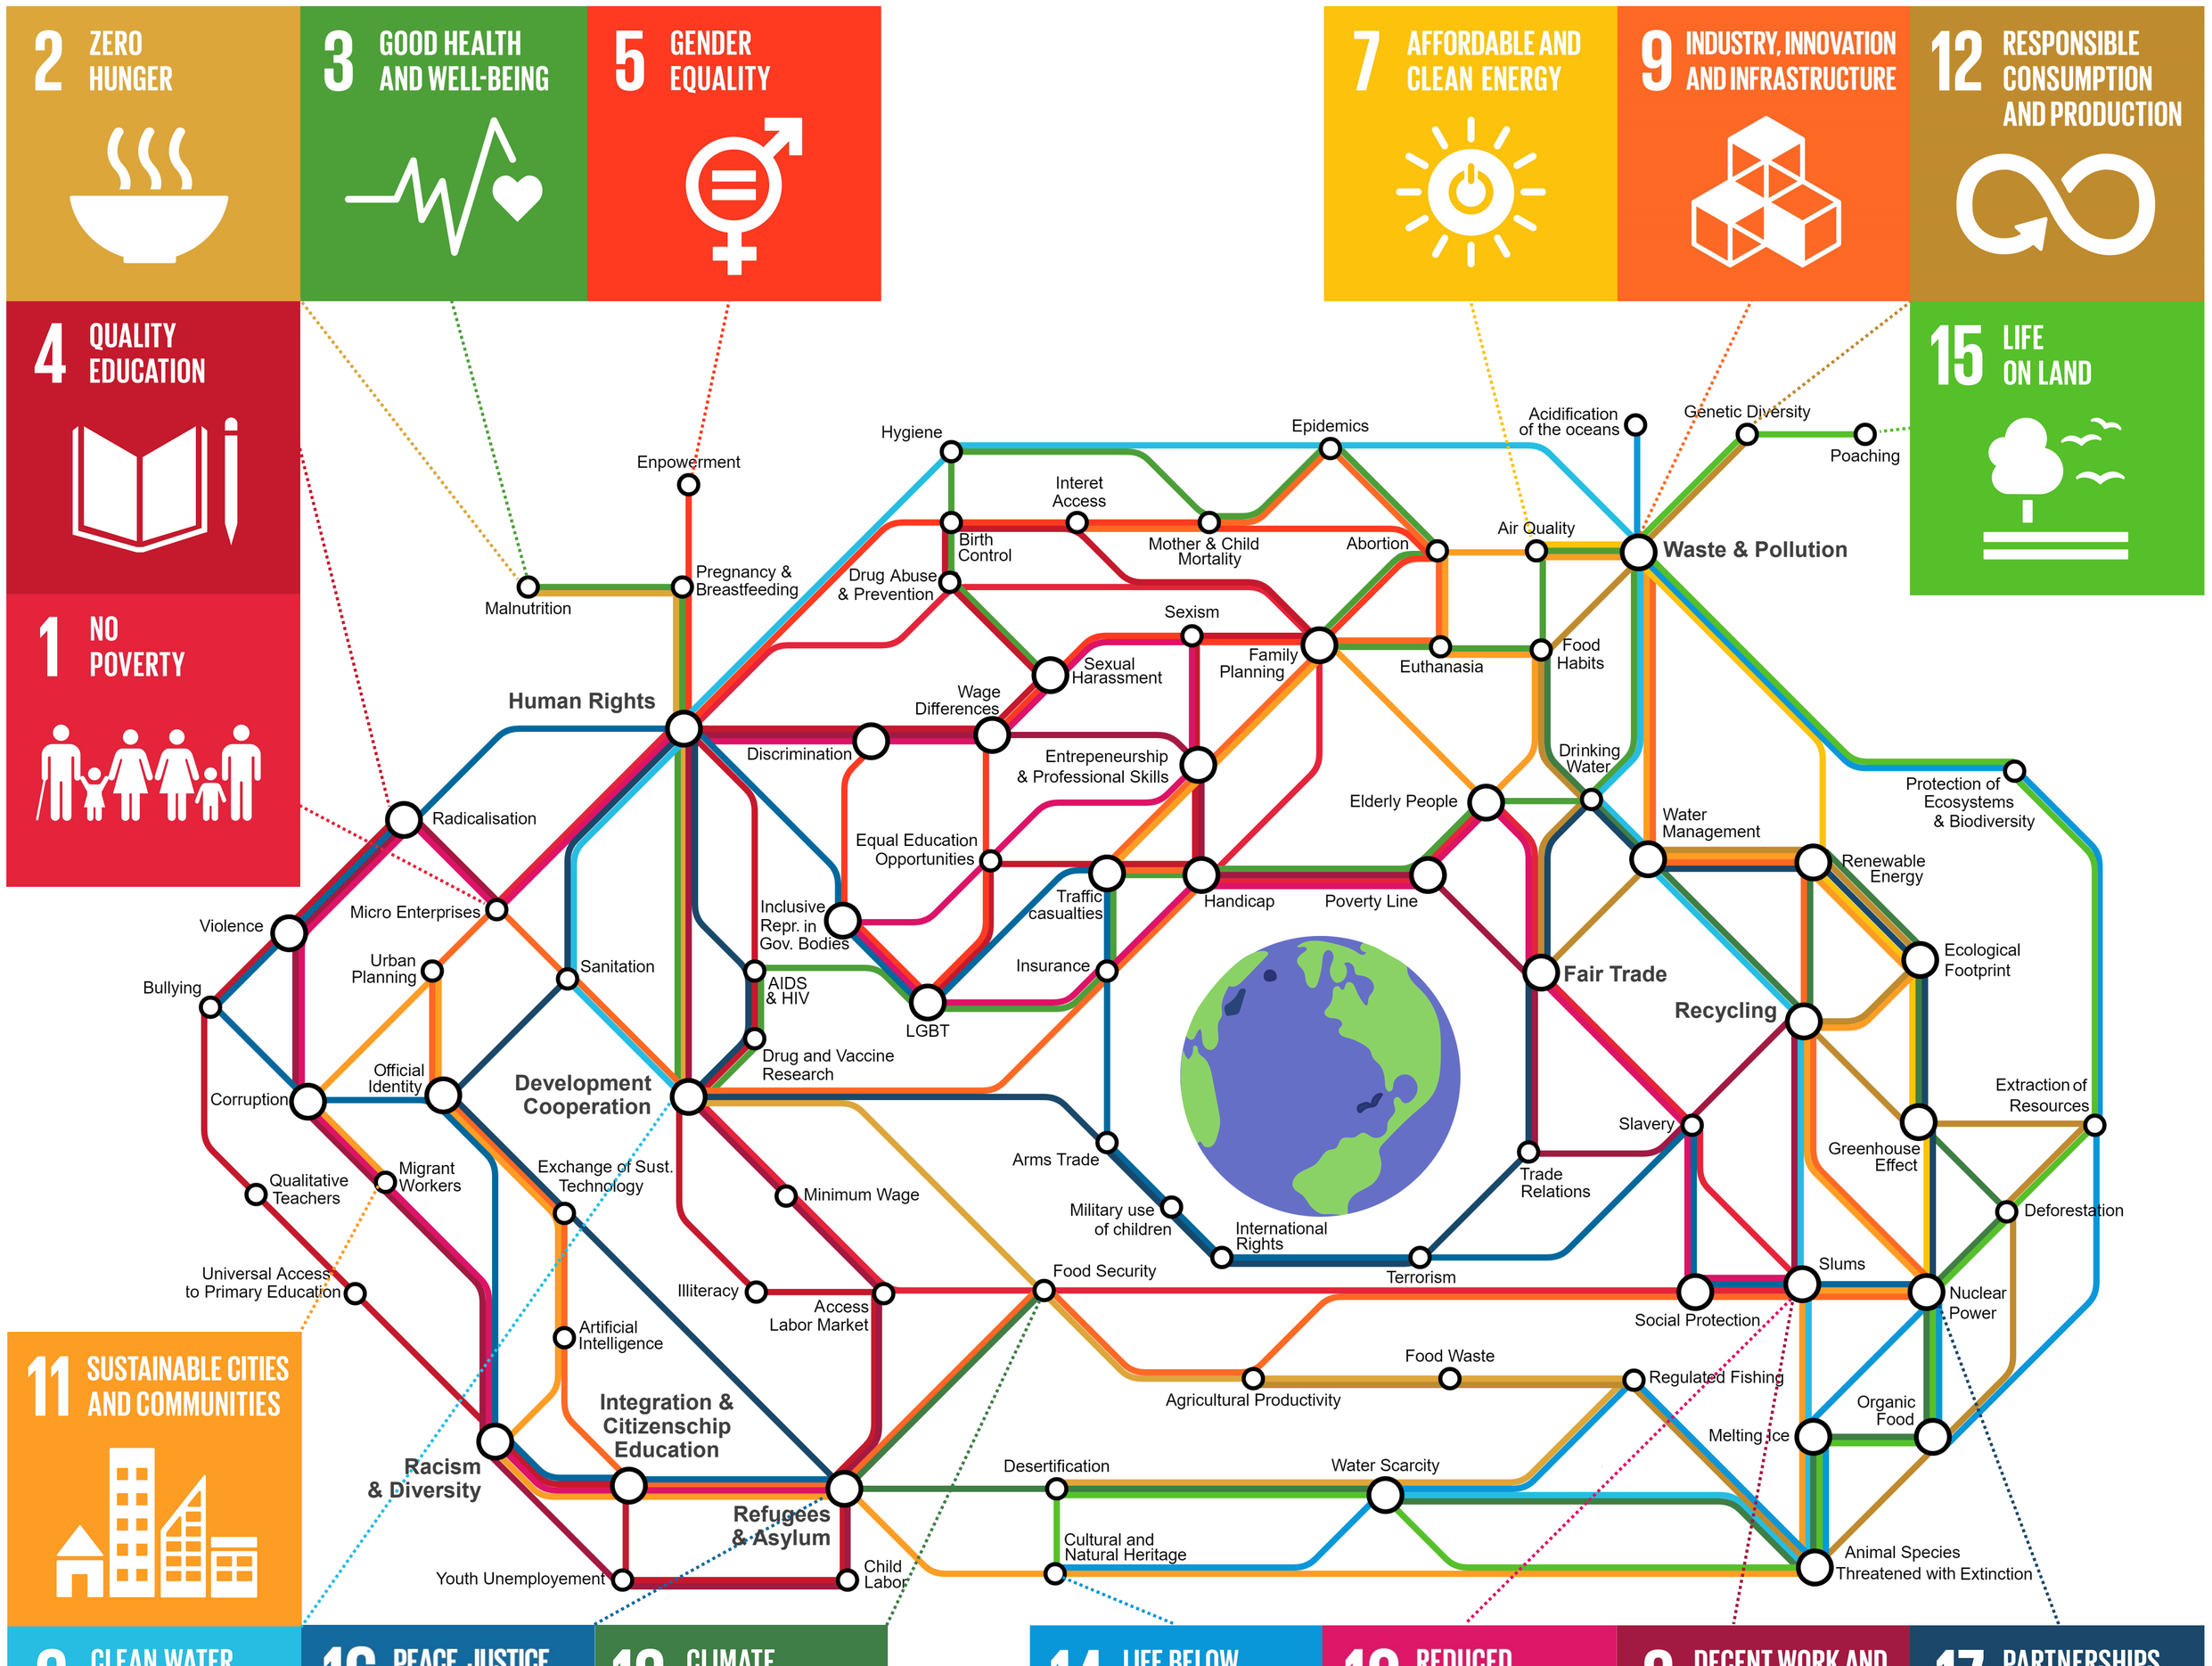
SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

Heading Towards a Better World by 2030



"Tackling one SDG… is tackling all of them!"

This metro map is a complex illustration of the 17 sustainable development goals. With different kinds of topics as service stations and the SDG's connecting them, it shows how the goals can relate to each other, and thus it emphasises their holistic nature. I do not pretend to be completely exhaustive or correct. Probably one can add more links and topics, but this map could be helpful in education or in other institutions as a source of inspiration to start up projects within the framework of the sustainable development goals.

Rembert Jonckheere
ASPnet Flanders, Belgium (January 2018)

Member of UNESCO Associated Schools

United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization